

Conscious Employability Model

Personal and professional development planning

- commitment to continuous 'learning to learn'
- constructive reflection, self review and evaluation
- recognition of own strengths and development needs
- strategies for continuously improving own performance