

THE STAFF WIRELESS LAPTOP SERVICE

OBTAINING YOUR MAC ADDRESS

Windows Users

To get your MAC address:

- Click Start and choose Run
- In the Open box, type cmd and click on OK
- When the command line box appears, type ipconfig /all and press Enter
- The MAC (or physical) address you need to register is the one under the line Ethernet adapter Wireless Network Connection (not the Local Area Connection MAC address).

Mac 10.3 and 10.4 Users

To get your MAC address:

- Click on the blue apple at the top left hand corner of the screen.
- Select About This Mac.
- Click on More Info.. and a System Profile window will appear.
- Select Network from the left hand pane. You should see an interface called AirPort or AirPort Extreme.
- Click on this interface and take a note of the Ethernet Address.

Mac 10.5 Users

To get your MAC address:

- Click on the blue apple at the top left hand corner of the screen.
- Select About This Mac.
- Click on More Info.. and a System Profile window will appear.
- Select Network from the left hand pane then Location & scroll down view pane till you see AirPort: and take a note of the Hardware (Mac) Address.