Activity/Processing being undertaken: Job Alerts

Edinburgh Napier University is providing you with this information in order for us to comply with the General Data Protection Regulation (EU) 2016/679, which requires us to tell you what we do with your personal information.

Who is collecting the information?

Edinburgh Napier University as the “Data Controller”.

Who are we sharing your Personal Data with (externally)?

Your data will not be shared externally

The University undertakes to maintain your information securely and will restrict access to employees, our professional advisers, authorised agents and contractors on a strictly need to know basis. We will only disclose your data to external third parties (other than any specified above) where we:

- Have your consent
- Are required to do so under a statutory or legal obligation, or
- Are permitted to do so by Data Protection legislation.

Why are we collecting it/what we are doing with it (purposes)?

To allow you to register and receive job alerts for opportunities relevant to the search parameters which you set.

What is the legal basis for processing?

As per your consent in lines with Article 6(1)(a) of the GDPR. You can withdraw your consent (i.e. delete your account to stop receiving job alerts) by logging on to your account and deleting the job alerts you have created <https://www.napier.ac.uk/about-us/work-with-us>

How are we collecting this information?

Directly from yourself when you register for an account

What information are we collecting (whose information and what type of personal data)?

Name and email address.

Who can see your information within the University?

Recruitment team

How long is your information kept?

Kept indefinitely unless you withdraw your consent (delete your account), if you do withdraw consent we will maintain a record of that so that we do not contact you about opportunities in the future unless you request us to do so.

Different retention periods apply if you go on to apply for a position, further information can be found online at: <https://staff.napier.ac.uk/services/governance-compliance/governance/records/Pages/RecordsRetentionSchedules.aspx>

How secure is your information?

For services provided locally by Information Services, information is stored on servers located in secure University datacentres. These datacentres are resilient and feature access controls, environmental monitoring, backup power supplies and redundant hardware. Information on these servers is backed up regularly. The University has various data protection and information security policies and procedures to ensure that appropriate organisational and technical measures are in place to protect the privacy of your personal data.

The University makes use of a number of third party, including “cloud”, services for information storage and processing. Through procurement and contract management procedures the University ensures that these services have appropriate organisational and technical measures to comply with data protection legislation.

Who keeps your information updated?

Yourself

Will your information be used for any automated decision making or profiling?
