

Pre-Employment Disclaimer:

Edinburgh Napier University has set out a series of pre-employment checks that enable us to minimise the risk of unsuitable individuals being engaged by the University. Our third party provider, Core Asset Verify, conducts these checks. The university provides successful candidates' information to Core Asset Verify who will then contact candidates directly to request any additional information to enable them to undertake appropriate vetting checks.

The nature of these checks vary depending on relevance to the position and can include (where applicable); identity verification, employment history verification, education verification, financial probity checks, criminal history checks, media and various public database checks (such as political sanctions lists and companies house information).
