Edinburgh Napier University

Staff Survey 2018

Executive Summary

The response rate of 69% to the staff survey at Edinburgh Napier University is higher than the average response rate of 67% achieved by higher education institutions (HEIs) Capita has surveyed in 2016-18, and this indicates a good level of employee engagement with the organisation.

Overall, the employee engagement survey results show that respondents are positive about working at Edinburgh Napier University:

- 93% feel safe and secure in their working environment;
- 90% are interested in the University and to them it's not just a job;
- 90% feel trusted to do their job;
- 86% generally enjoy their work;
- 76% say the University is a good place to work;
- 76% feel the University delivers good quality service to student/service users.

However, staff have concerns about issues such as the way change is managed; workload and bureaucracy; career progression; staff recognition and retention; the effectiveness of communication and level of co-operation between different parts of the University; confidence in the University's Leadership Team; and the availability of social and rest space.

Overall in the 2018 staff survey, there are 61 questions that have generated a positive response and can be considered as key strengths, while 36 questions have generated a negative response and can be considered as key areas for improvement.

A comparison of the 2018 survey results with those for 2015 suggests that the positive percentage scores for 7 questions show a statistically significant improvement, while the scores for 76 questions show a statistically significant deterioration. There is no significant change in the scores for 46 questions.

The University developed a measure of overall engagement for its 2013 survey and the overall engagement score was 70%, based on 12 questions. The 2015 score improved to 80%. The 2018 average score is 76% when considering the same 12 questions.

Higher education is a high performing sector in terms of staff survey results, and Capita uses key employee engagement and organisational climate questions to compare HEIs.

The University's results for these 22 key employee engagement and organisational climate questions are generally below the benchmark scores for other HEIs surveyed by Capita in 2016-18, with two statistically significantly better scores and 12 statistically significantly worse scores (eight are broadly in line with the benchmark scores).

In terms of being rated as a good place to work, Edinburgh Napier University is ranked in 46th position out of 47 HEIs surveyed by Capita in 2016-18 and in 172nd place out of 403 public sector, private sector and not-for-profit organisations in the Capita benchmark database.

Other reports produced by Capita provide an analysis of the University's results by School and Department. An analysis of the free text comments made by respondents will also allow the University to gain a better understanding of what staff like about working for the University and what they would like to improve (and their suggestions for doing this).

Background

In January 2018, Edinburgh Napier University launched its staff survey, to provide an opportunity for employees to feedback on their experiences in working for Edinburgh Napier University, and to highlight issues they feel should be addressed in the future.

The survey was designed by Edinburgh Napier University (in conjunction with Capita Surveys and Research) as an e-survey, with an option to complete the survey on paper or over the telephone.

The survey was distributed on 16th January 2018 with a closure date of 9th February 2018. Capita Surveys and Research processed and validated 1,056 completed survey questionnaires from Edinburgh Napier University employees; this gives a response rate of 69% based on the 1,526 staff invited to participate.

Presentation of results

This report presents a summary of the results for the whole organisation i.e. everyone who participated in the survey.

Part A includes

Key employee engagement and organisation climate indicators and comparisons with other Higher Education Institutions (HEIs).

Part B includes

The most positive issues rated by staff, identified as organisation strengths.

Part C includes

The least positive issues rated by staff and identified as areas for improvement.

Part D includes

A summary of the statistically significant differences in the question results between the 2018 and 2015 staff surveys in chart format (ordered from most to least positive percentage point change and colour coded highlighting whether the change is a statistically significant difference).

Part E includes

All positive perceptions for the primary questions / statements in the 2018 survey in descending ranked order and then ranked in section order. All results are colour coded to help to identify areas of strength or opportunities for improvement.

Part F includes

A presentation of the survey results in chart format.

Each section displays questions in appropriate groups in chart format with percentages. It should be noted the sum of the total responses throughout this report may not be exactly equal to 100% due to rounding.

Reliability of results

The accuracy of survey results is related to the size of the responding sample, not the whole organisation from which it is drawn. Very low response rates run the risk of non-response bias, e.g. if only 30% of an organisation participate can you be sure that the views of the 30% who responded are the same as the 70% who didn't respond? As a rule of thumb a sample size of 200 responses or a 50% response rate is considered the minimum for opinion research whatever the organisation size, and will overcome any non-response bias. When considering a sub-group of a total survey population 50 responses or a 50% response rate is considered the minimum for results to be reliable.

Confidence intervals and statistical reliability

The respondents to the questionnaire are only a sample of the total Edinburgh Napier University population, so we cannot be 100% certain that the figures obtained are exactly those we would have if everybody had returned their questionnaires, i.e. the 'true values'. We can, however, predict the variation between the sample results and the 'true' values from the knowledge of the size of the samples on which the results are based, the 'confidence level'.

In social research, the most common measure of confidence for this prediction is the 95% confidence interval – where the chances are 95 out of 100 that the true value would be within a specified range – i.e. if everyone had responded. As a general guide it is calculated that the results for Edinburgh Napier University are within $\pm 1\%$ (the confidence interval), for each question. The confidence interval guide for 2015 is $\pm 1\%$. This means when considering improvements and deteriorations between the years there would need to be a change of more than two percentage points in response for most questions.

Participation

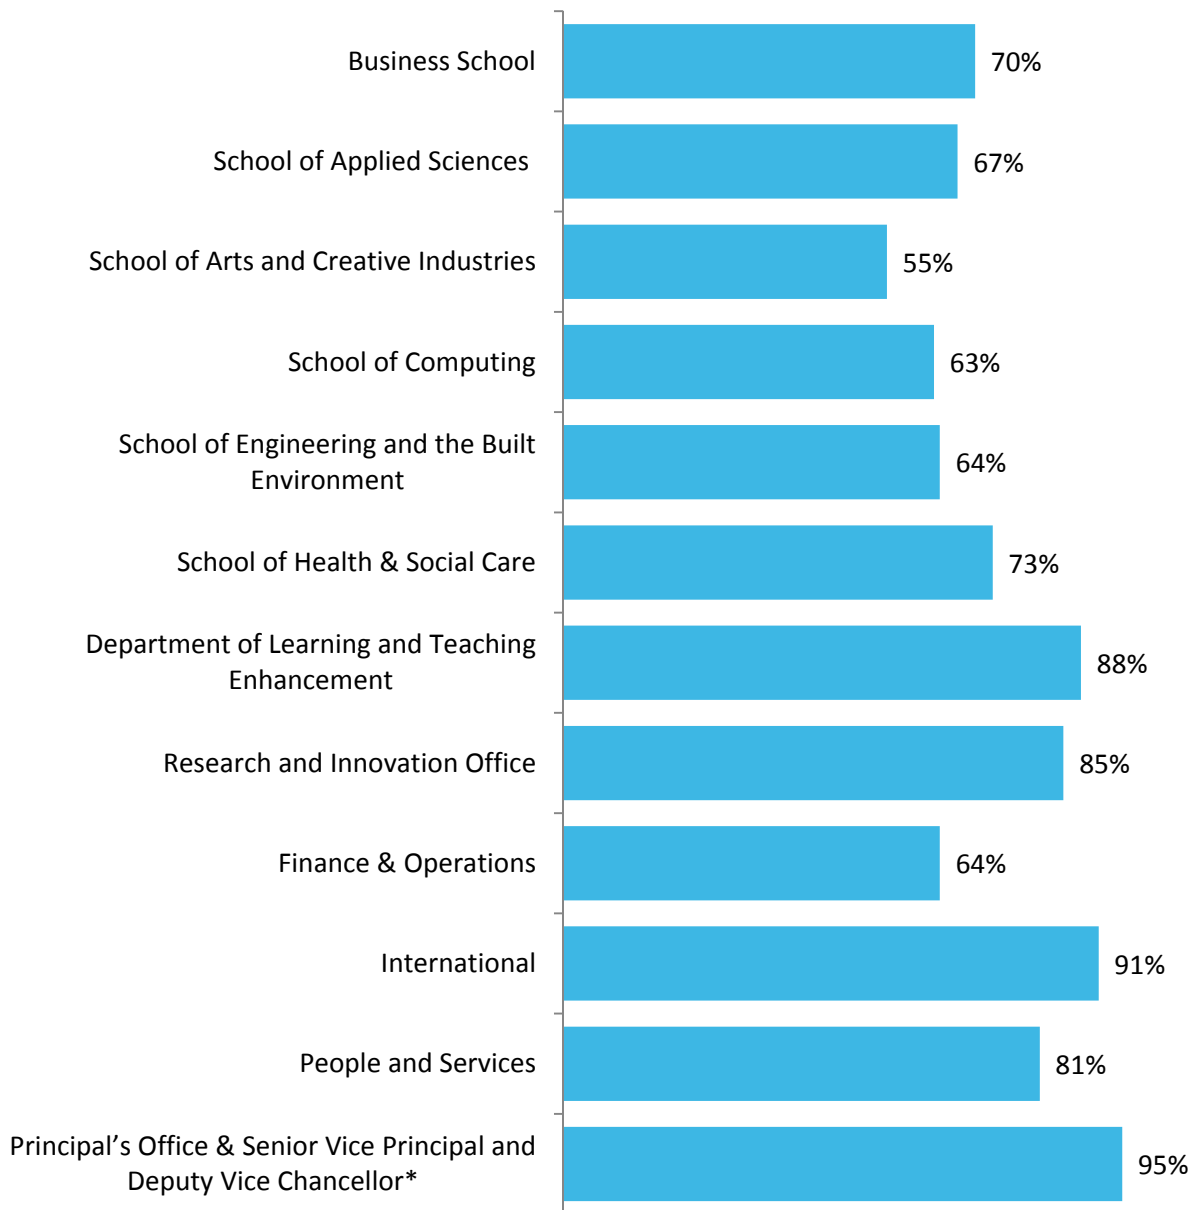

The following chart shows the response rate for all staff who responded to Edinburgh Napier University's staff survey.

A total of 1,056 survey questionnaires were completed and returned by the 1,526 members of staff invited to participate in the survey: this means that the overall response rate for Edinburgh Napier University is 69%.

Response rates for individual areas of work ranged from 55% to 95%.

PART A – Employee Engagement and Organisation Climate

Overall Employee Engagement

The University has developed its own measure of overall engagement. The overall employee engagement score was 70% for the 2013 survey and was based on 12 questions. The 2015 score was 80%. The 2018 overall employee engagement score is 76%.

Question	2018 % Favourable Score	2015 % Favourable Score	2013 % Favourable Score
I have not felt discriminated against at work in the last 12 months (matched to 2013 question: In the last 12 months, I have not suffered a detriment due to age, disability etc)	90	92	89
I feel valued by my colleagues + I feel valued by students/other service users (average score of two questions - matched to 2013 question: My knowledge and experience is valued by students and colleagues)	83	83	76
Overall my engagement with the University is good (matched to 2013 question: Considering everything, how would you rate your overall engagement with the University)	83	84	66
I understand how my work supports my Department/School's goals (matched to 2013 question: I understand what I need to achieve to help to meet the overall strategic objectives)	82	85	55
My work gives me a sense of personal achievement (matched to 2013 question: My motivation at work is generally high)	77	78	76
I feel the University delivers a good quality service to students/service users (matched to 2013 question: The student experience is central to my work)	76	85	83
I understand the University's Strategy (matched to 2013 question: The University's vision and strategic aims are effectively communicated)	76	81	52
I believe the University is committed to equality of opportunity for all of its staff	75	79	61
I could explain to someone who didn't work here, what the University is trying to achieve	71	82	54
I feel inspired to do my best work every day (matched to 2013 question: I am committed to always doing the best that I can)	69	68	96
I am personally encouraged to look for ways to improve the way we do things (matched to 2013 question: I am encouraged to contribute ideas and suggestions to enable continuous development)	68	69	63
I feel able to voice my opinions (matched to 2013 question: I believe my views are welcomed, encouraged and also challenged where appropriate)	62	68	64
Average Score	76	80	70

Please note: the 2018 and 2015 favourable scores have been calculated by adding the Agree and Tend to Agree figures while the 2013 scores were calculated by adding Strongly Agree and Agree. For negatively worded questions the Disagree and Tend to Disagree response is used.

The 2018 and 2015 surveys used a 4 point response scale comprising Agree, Tend to Agree, Tend to Disagree and Disagree.

The 2013 survey used a 5-point scale, comprising Strongly Agree, Agree, Partly Agree/Partly Disagree, Disagree and Strongly Disagree.

Capita's measures of employee engagement and organisation climate

The following tables compare some of the key results from the survey for Edinburgh Napier University in relation to the other Higher Education Institutions (HEIs) that Capita supported to undertake an employee engagement survey in 2016-2018.

The tables on the following pages show the key questions included in the survey which measure employee engagement, i.e. 'motivated and involved employees, who are supporters of the University' and organisation climate i.e. 'how things are in the work environment'. Positive responses to these questions demonstrate high levels of employee job satisfaction which leads to the University providing a good quality service to students and other service users.

Making comparisons with other HEIs helps put the employee engagement results into context and highlight Edinburgh Napier University's strengths and areas for improvement. However, the comparisons are not used on their own to decide the issues for improvement within the University. The negative perceptions from staff responding to the survey may not be the same as those identified by the HEI comparisons, but should also be considered as areas for improvement.

The employee engagement and organisation climate tables

The yellow tables on the following pages show the 'agree' percentages for Edinburgh Napier University compared to the median score of other HEIs. The information in the final column of the tables indicates whether the University score is statistically significantly different when compared to other HEIs. Statistical significance does not necessarily mean it is an important difference. What it does indicate is where a real difference exists between the University score and the median HEI score, and the difference is not just by chance related to some other factor such as the response rate, or the size of the organisation etc.

For ease of reference the statistically significant differences are shown in green where the difference is a better score than the median for the benchmark group, and in red where the difference is worse.

PART B – Most positive perceptions

This part of the report provides the most positive perceptions for Edinburgh Napier University as a whole (ordered from most to least positive), which can be identified as areas of strength. Percentage point change from the 2015 survey results are shown for reference where comparisons are available.

Questions or statements with a combined positive score of 75% or above are considered areas of strength. Edinburgh Napier University achieved 61 areas of strength in 2018.

Note

The combined positive score is used throughout the analysis. Where a question/statement is positively phrased, agree or tend to agree (or yes) responses are used. Where a question/statement is negatively phrased, disagree and tend to disagree (or no) responses are used.

Where questions/statements are negatively worded in the questionnaire, the positive perception is shown to enable a ranked order. These questions/statements have been reworded to ensure ease of understanding.

E.g. The results for the question: 'Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work?' are displayed for those who said 'No' to this statement i.e. the positive perception.

The text has therefore been reworded to 'I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work'.

Neutral questions (e.g. question 5-1 'How long have you been employed by the University?') have been excluded from analysis.

Please note, whilst there may be a high percentage of employees who identify themselves as not being harassed, bullied or discriminated against, and this is identified as a strength in the analysis, these areas should be considered as areas for improvement as most organisations have a zero tolerance policy regarding these issues.

Sub-set questions/statements are only asked of participants meeting certain criteria (usually giving specific response(s) to a previous question, and therefore are answered by a smaller number of participants. To ensure anonymity is maintained, some of the sub-set questions/statements are excluded from this analysis. However, as a large number of employees have responded to the sub-set questions in Question Block 5 (Q5-2 to Q5-8) and Q12-10, these follow up sub-set questions are used in the analysis.

PART C – Least positive perceptions

This part of the report provides the least positive perceptions for Edinburgh Napier University and can be considered areas for improvement. The percentage point change from the 2015 survey results are shown for reference where comparisons are available.

Questions or statements with a combined positive score of 50% or lower are considered areas for improvement. Edinburgh Napier University recorded 36 areas for improvement in 2018.

Note

The combined positive score is used throughout the analysis. Where a question/statement is positively phrased, agree or tend to agree (or yes) responses are used. Where a question/statement is negatively phrased, disagree and tend to disagree (or no) responses are used.

Where questions/statements are negatively worded in the questionnaire, the positive perception is shown to enable a ranked order. These questions/statements have been reworded to ensure ease of understanding.

E.g. The results for the question: 'Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work?' are displayed for those who said 'No' to this statement i.e. the positive perception.

The text has therefore been reworded to 'I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work'.

Neutral questions (e.g. question 5-1 'How long have you been employed by the University?') have been excluded from analysis.

Sub-set questions/statements are only asked of participants meeting certain criteria (usually giving specific response(s) to a previous question, and therefore are answered by a smaller number of participants. To ensure anonymity is maintained, some of the sub-set questions/statements are excluded from this analysis. However, as a large number of employees have responded to the sub-set questions in Question Block 5 (Q5-2 to Q5-8) and Q12-10, these follow up sub-set questions are used in the analysis.

PART D – Statistically significant differences in perceptions since 2015

This part of the report displays the percentage point change in positive responses, for Edinburgh Napier University in 2018 that can be compared to the 2015 survey in chart format.

The results are ordered from most to least positive percentage point change and colour coded to show statistical significance. Please note, this analysis only shows questions that have a change in percentage points, questions that show zero percentage point change are not shown.

Overall, the 2018 results for Edinburgh Napier University indicate there are seven statistically significant improvements in the combined positive perceptions and 76 deteriorations, whilst 46 questions showed no significant change.

When considering the changes between the years it is important to note that a simple change in the percentages between the years may be related to a difference in the number of respondents answering a question rather than a real change between the years. We therefore undertake an additional 'test' to identify statistically significant differences i.e. 'real' differences between the years using a confidence interval.

In social research, the most common measure of confidence for this prediction is the 95% confidence interval – where the chances are 95 out of 100 that the true value would be within a specified range – i.e. if everyone had responded. As a general guide it is calculated that the results for Edinburgh Napier University are within $\pm 1\%$ (the confidence interval), for each question. The confidence guide for 2015 is $\pm 1\%$. This means when considering improvements and deteriorations between the years there would need to be a change of more than two percentage points in response for most questions.

Note

The combined positive score is used throughout the analysis. Where a question/statement is positively phrased, agree or tend to agree (or yes) responses are used. Where a question/statement is negatively phrased, disagree and tend to disagree (or no) responses are used.

Where questions/statements are negatively worded in the questionnaire, the positive perception is shown to enable a ranked order. These questions/statements have been reworded to ensure ease of understanding.

E.g. The results for the question: 'Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work?' are displayed for those who said 'No' to this statement i.e. the positive perception.

The text has therefore been reworded to 'I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work'.

Neutral questions (e.g. question 5-1 'How long have you been employed by the University?') have been excluded from analysis.

Sub-set questions/statements are only asked of participants meeting certain criteria (usually giving specific response(s) to a previous question, and therefore are answered by a smaller number of participants. To ensure anonymity is maintained, some of the sub-set questions/statements are excluded from this analysis. However, as a large number of employees have responded to the sub-set questions in Question Block 5 (Q5-2 to Q5-8) and Q12-10, these follow up sub-set questions are used in the analysis.

PART E – Areas of strength and areas identified for improvement

This part of the report displays all the primary questions in the survey for the University. Most sub set or secondary questions, and questions that are deemed to be neither positive nor negative are excluded.

The first table shows the 2018 question results for the University in a descending ranked order i.e. the most positive responses appear at the top of the list and the results are colour coded. The 2018 question results are also compared to the 2015 results, where available.

The second table shows the questions in descending ranked order within the sections in which they appear in the survey questionnaire.

Where questions are negatively worded the positive perception is shown to enable the ranked order.
E.g. The results for the question: Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work? are displayed for those who responded 'No' to this question (the positive perceptions) i.e. 5% of staff at the University said they feel they are currently being harassed or bullied at work therefore this is displayed as 95% and the question has been reworded to I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work. These questions are highlighted in grey.

The question/statement results are colour coded to help to identify areas of strength or opportunities for improvement. Cells displaying question results are colour coded red, amber or green according to the percentage of respondents giving a positive response:

- GREEN indicates 'strength' - agreement from 75% or more of staff
- AMBER indicates 'opportunities for improvement' - agreement from between 51% and 74% of staff
- RED indicates 'areas for improvement' - agreement from 50% or fewer staff.

The colour coding boundaries described above to identify areas of strength or need for improvement were agreed by the HEI user group of Capita Surveys and Research to offer guidance and focus for action planning.

A summary table of results which are 'improvements', 'no change' and 'deteriorations' (shown below) is shown at the top of each page.

Improvements	26
No change	17
Deteriorations	103

Example:

- GREEN 75% or higher = Strength
- AMBER 51% - 74% = Opportunity for improvement
- RED 50% or lower = Needs improvement

Improvements: 26
No change: 17
Deteriorations: 103

		Total number of responses:
Question		2018 %	2015 %	+/-
Question Block 1: Work-Life Balance
Q1-2	My immediate manager helps me find a good work-life balance	75	76	-1

Please note, whilst there is a high percentage of staff who identify themselves as not being harassed, bullied or discriminated against, and this is identified as a strength in this analysis, it should be noted that these areas should be included in areas for improvement as many take a zero tolerance policy regarding these issues.

Responses ranked in descending order

The table below shows the percentage of respondents who gave a positive response to the question.

Responses to negatively phrased questions (highlighted in grey) have been treated in reverse to allow direct comparison with positively worded questions / statements. e.g. 'Q13-1 I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work?', the percentage stated represents the respondents who said 'No' to question 'Q13-1 Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work?' (i.e. gave the positive response).

There may be variation up to 1% when compared to the Frequency Data report due to rounding.

Responses ranked within questionnaire section

The table below shows the percentage of respondents who gave a positive response to the question.

Responses to negatively phrased questions (highlighted in grey) have been treated in reverse to allow direct comparison with positively worded questions / statements. e.g. 'Q13-1 I'm not currently being harassed or bullied at work', the percentage stated represents the respondents who said 'No' to question 'Q13-1 Are you currently being harassed or bullied at work?' (i.e. gave the positive response).

There may be variation up to 1% when compared to the Frequency Data report due to rounding.

PART F – Survey Results

A presentation of the survey results in chart format in the same order as the questionnaire for ease of reference.

All the main results charts (for scale response questions) are structured in a similar way:

1. Question: The text of the question that was asked.
2. Response chart: The percentage of respondents who selected each response option for each question, rounded to the nearest whole percentage, is presented in a stacked bar chart. It is important to look at this detailed breakdown, not just the percentage of positive responses, when interpreting the survey results. Note that the rounding percentages occasionally results in the total percentage not adding up to exactly 100%.
3. Total Responses: The number of valid responses that were received for the question.
4. Combining the ‘good’ responses and the ‘rounding effect’ (Positive %): The total combined percentage of ‘good’ or positive responses that were received for each question in 2018 is shown after the stacked bar chart.

The combined ‘good’ responses usually add together the ‘Agree / Tend to agree’ or ‘Yes’ responses. However, for some questions the ‘good’ response may be the ‘Disagree/ Tend to disagree’ or ‘No’ responses. Questions that are considered neutral are not given a positive % score.

The following colour coding is used on the bar charts to aid with analysis:

Green represents the responses that are ‘good’ in relation to the question.

Red represents the responses that are a ‘poor’ in relation to the question.

Grey generally represents outcomes which are neither positive nor negative. The neutral responses such as ‘Don’t Know’, ‘Not Sure’ and questions in the ‘About You’ section.

To ensure the figures are accurate, rounding to the nearest percentage point is applied at the last stage of calculations. This may mean the total positive (good) percentage displayed can be up to 1% different from simply adding together the two percentages. [A more detailed explanation of this and an example can be found at the back of this report]

5. Change from 2015: The change in the percentage of positive responses to this question since the 2015 Staff Survey. This data may be presented as a positive (+) or negative (-) percentage according to whether the overall percentage of positive responses was higher or lower than in 2015. Not all questions have a change from 2015 figure due to response type and changes in the 2018 questionnaire.

Appendix – Understanding the effect of rounding

Figures throughout this report are displayed as whole numbers for the ease of reading. To ensure the figures are as accurate as possible we apply rounding to the figures to the nearest percentage point. Sometimes this will mean that the figures shown may not be identical if calculations are performed using the figures displayed in the report, however any difference would not be larger than ± 1 percentage point.

Therefore, if you sum the percentages for all the response options to a question the figure may not sum to 100%, but may sum to 99% or 101%.

When combining the total positive responses we first combine the number of responses and then calculate a combined percentage, rather than simply adding the two individual response percentages together.

In the example shown below if we sum the displayed percentages for agree and tend to agree to calculate the percentage positive response it would be 64%, however, by using raw figures we calculate the result more accurately to 64.5715% which is rounded up to 65%.

EXAMPLE:

	Agree	Tend to Agree	Tend to Disagree	Disagree	Total	Total Positive responses calculation
	(A)	(B)	(C)	(D)	A+B+C+D	A+B
Number of responses	233	445	257	115	1,050	678
Percent of responses	22.1905%	42.3810%	24.4762%	10.9524%	100.0001%	64.5715%
Rounds to	22%	42%	24%	11%	99%	64%

Note

When calculating the percentage point differences between the 2015 and 2018 survey results, the whole numbers for each of the years, following the rounding of the raw figures, are used.
